

Cycling Friendly Campus development fund

What is the fund?

The Cycling Friendly Campus development fund, funded by Transport Scotland, supports Scottish colleges and universities to take a leading role in increasing the number of journeys by bike.

Capital projects which focus on improving cycling facilities and physical infrastructure – such as cycle parking, signage and changing facilities – are the key focus of this funding opportunity.

Why apply?

There are many ways that encouraging cycling can benefit your campus: cycling is a great way for students to stay fit and healthy, reduces stress and improves mental health, saves on transport costs and is a great way to get to know a new place. The development fund can help you to achieve these benefits.

Who can apply?

The Cycling Friendly Campus development fund is open to all Scottish colleges and universities (and associated organisations) who are actively working to promote cycling as a sustainable travel choice. Projects must be focused on campuses located in Scotland.

Which campuses have received funding?

How to apply for funding?

To apply for funding, visit <https://www.cycling.scot/our-programmes/cycle-friendly/campus> to find out more about applying.