Norbert has been a Bikeability Scotland Coordinator since 2019, based at the Ancrum Outdoor Centre in Dundee. His favourite aspect of the job is to show children how Bikeability Scotland is linked to climate change and an active lifestyle. Norbert is a qualified Cycle Trainer, Cycle Ride Leader and Outdoor First Aider.

Earliest memory of cycling?

My grandma bought my first bike which had suspension and plastic spokes. I was really famous back then, especially because it was only available in one colour... pink. But who can refuse a grandma?

What would you say to a school thinking about participating in Bikeability Scotland?

The benefits of Bikeability Scotland are far-reaching. You can incorporate it into the curriculum for excellence through maths, physics, healthy eating, climate change. It is a door to a whole new world.

Best Bikeability Scotland moment?

Teaching a child to ride a bike for the first time.

Most likely to be heard saying....

You can do that, it's not hard. Who can show us how it's done?
