

Coordinator Bio

Dundee Bikeability Scotland Coordinator

Callum Riddoch

Job title: Active Travel Coordinator
Contact: callum.riddoch@leisureandculturedundee.com
07501 635 497

Callum has been an Active Travel Coordinator since 2021 based in Dundee. This job has a large focus on Bikeability Scotland, but involves all things to do with choosing more sustainable methods of travelling. Callum works at Ancrum Outdoor Centre and uses this as an opportunity to utilise his love for cycling and outdoor activities. Callum has been involved with Bikeability Scotland since 2019 and has been working with all 33 primary schools in Dundee.

Earliest memory of cycling?

Spending full days with my family or friends on our bikes, just exploring, having fun and making memories.

What would you say to a school thinking about participating in Bikeability Scotland?

I've seen first-hand that Bikeability Scotland can have a massive impact on children's lives. It gives them the confidence and knowledge they need to cycle more often while providing more freedom and adventure in their lives.

Best Bikeability Scotland moment?

Teaching a child how to cycle who was told for years they would never be able to. The moment they started cycling by themselves, all you heard was screams of joy and the entire class cheering them on. A moment I will never forget.

Most likely to be heard saying....

"Look over your shoulder!"

For further details on Bikeability Scotland and the National Standard for cycle training visit bikeability.scot For more information on Cycling Scotland visit cycling.scot

Cycling Scotland is a Scottish Charity, SC029760, regulated by the Scottish Charity Regulator (OSCR)